

Les SAINT PERE

Voilà un autre très joli patronyme que j'ai souvent rencontré et qui prend sa source sur Salives dans les registres des « Cerches des Feux du Bailliage de la Montaigne » du Châtillonnais.

A snippet of a handwritten manuscript in a cursive script, showing the text 'le saint pere'.

1384 le saint pere (misérable)

A snippet of a handwritten manuscript in a cursive script, showing the text 'Clement de saint pere'.

1390 clement de saint pere (solvable)

A snippet of a handwritten manuscript in a cursive script, showing the text 'Symon filz au saint (per)e'.

1397 symon filz au saint (per)e (mendiant)

A snippet of a handwritten manuscript in a cursive script, showing the text 'Symon le saint (per)e'.

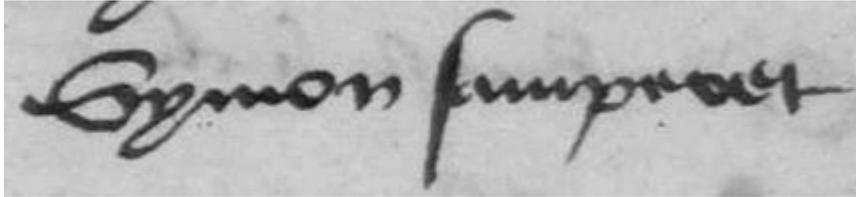

1406 symon le saint (per)e (mendiant)

A snippet of a handwritten manuscript in a cursive script, showing the text 'Symon le s(ain)t (per)e'.

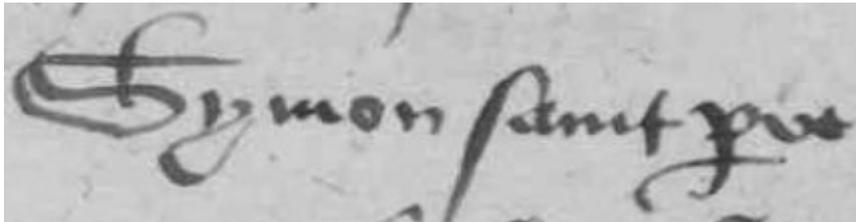

1413 symon le s(ain)t (per)e (misérable)

A snippet of a handwritten manuscript in a cursive script, showing the text 'Symon saint pere'.

1417 symon saint pere (misérable)

A close-up photograph of a handwritten name in a cursive script. The name is 'Symon fainperet', written in dark ink on a light-colored, slightly textured paper. The letters are connected and fluid, characteristic of a personal or family name from the 14th or 15th century.

1423 symon sainperet (misérable)

A close-up photograph of a handwritten name in a cursive script. The name is 'Symon saint peret', written in dark ink on a light-colored, slightly textured paper. The letters are connected and fluid, characteristic of a personal or family name from the 14th or 15th century.

1424 symon saint (per)et (misérable)

Yves Degoix le 20 mai 2014 